ATLANTIC COAST S GAUGERS

NASG National Convention,
Baltimore, MD

The Atlantic Coast S Gaugers is a nonprofit club which does not discriminate on the basis of scale, gauge, race, creed, or color.

ATLANTIC COAST S GAUGERS

Welcome to the Atlantic Coast S Gaugers. Our club is a nonprofit club begun in the Richmond, Virginia area in 1998. Our members now come from the Atlantic Coast from Delaware through Florida through seven divisions: Carolinas (serving both North and South Carolina), Delaware, Georgia (centered around Atlanta), Northern Florida (around Jacksonville), Tidewater, Virginia Central (centered around Richmond), and Washington & Old Dominion (serving northern Virginia),

The Club's focus is S gauge trains, including American Flyer and other newer manufacturers. Our members enjoy both collecting and operating S gauge trains. We also invite persons involved with other scales and gauges to run their S gauge trains with us. If you do not have trains, you are still invited to join if you enjoy running trains.

The Club is a "just for the fun of it" club. It was formed on the same basis as the more established Baltimore Area American Flyer Club and the St. Louis American Flyer Club. The ACSG Club has no formal rules. Instead, it is governed by the following "non-rules":

- NO dues
- NO officers, officials, or official staff
- NO constitution or bylaws
- Operation is by consensus; the majority rules, but the minority has to be able to go along with it or we just don't do it

- Individual members will be called upon to perform various tasks
- The primary method of communication is email.
- Club funds are generated from fees collected for operating the Club's modular train layout, and from Club sponsorship. Members should get free admission to these shows.
- We will meet quarterly in different member's homes or at shows to conduct business, have work sessions, and to just run trains. A newsletter may be introduced in the future.

S Gauge Modular Layout

Each Division of the Atlantic Coast S Gaugers Club has a separate modular S gauge layout, which are operated 3 to 10 times during the year. All members are welcome to participate in the operation of the layout., even if they do not have S gauge trains. The upcoming shows at which each ACSG Division will operate their modular layout are announced at quarterly meetings and/or through email. We encourage all members to participate in the operation of the layout.
