"We're Sweet on Harvey House"

A Dining Tradition

HARVEY HOUSE HISTORY

The Harvey House concept began in 1876 when Frederick H. Harvey recognized the need for quality meals and lodging for railroad travelers. He then persuaded the manager of the new Atchinson, Topeka, & Santa Fe (AT&SF) Railroad that he could provide just that.

Courtesy of Union Station Kansas City, Inc.

The first Harvey House restaurant opened in the Topeka Santa Fe Depot Station that same year. It was an immediate success and led to other Harvey House restaurants and hotels along the entire Santa Fe route.

The "Harvey Girls" brightened the Harvey House restaurants and brought a civilizing influence and charm to the rough and barren Southwest frontier. These young women were recruited to work as waitresses, in exchange for a modest salary plus tips, dormitory lodging and distinctive black and white uniforms. Their public image and esteem were celebrated in the 1946 MGM movie, "The Harvey Girls," starring Judy Garland.

The Harvey House Diner at Union Station pays homage to Fred Harvey and celebrates the Harvey House legacy.
