Help us build her a new Engine House

Concept model by Bob Spaulding: Altoona Model Works www.altoonamodelworks.net

Based on a typical steam era design, this scaled down version of a single stall Engine House will have doors on both ends, allowing the Railmaster Amusement Park Train to run through it. At the end of the day, the train set can be parked inside and safely secured till the next run. With your help and donations, this project can be completed in time to give kids of all ages a chance to ride the train this summer.
